Subject: Re: No nickname for EPA power plant rules

Hey everyone, it's Kevin Bogardus with E&E News again. I just wanted to check in one more time about the below. Please let me know if you have any more thoughts about EPA not having a nickname for the new power plant rules. If you do wish to comment further, please get back to me before my deadline of 4 pm ET. Thank you for your help and talk to you later!

Subject: No nickname for EPA power plant rules

Hey everyone,

Hi, it's Kevin Bogardus with E&E News. I hope all is well.

My colleague Robin Bravender (who is CC'ed on this email) and I are working on story about how EPA does not have a nickname for the power plant rules announced today, unlike past iterations of these regulations like the Clean Power Plan and the Affordable Clean Energy rule. We will quote the EPA press office's Twitter account (please see <https://twitter.com/EPAPressOffice/status/1656658290816974851?s=20>) and Administrator Regan (please see <https://twitter.com/rbravender/status/1656707692801687552>) in our story.

I have a question about this, which is:

-- Does EPA have any further comment on EPA not having a nickname for the power plant rules announced today?

Please get back to me as soon as possible. My deadline is 4 pm ET today but the sooner you get back to me, the more it helps my story. Also, since I'm working from home, please email me here or call my cell phone at 202-247-7844. Thank you for your help and stay safe, stay healthy!
